Tessa Stevens Health and Beauty Clinic named winner at Professional Beauty Regional Awards

North London business recognised at national salon and spa awards

The brightest names in beauty were recognised at this year's Professional Beauty Regional Awards, including Tessa Stevens Health and Beauty Clinic, which was named South East Large Salon of the Year.

Awards were handed out to the most outstanding salons and spas in the country over a glittering champagne afternoon tea at Manchester Central on Sunday 22 October, hosted by comedian Ian Moore.

Now in its second year, the awards are divided into three categories: boutique salon (for businesses with three treatment rooms or fewer) and large salon (four treatment rooms or more) and spa. With 22 categories in total, the event seeks to recognise those beauty providers who go above and beyond the call of duty in terms of professionalism, skill and customer service.

Professional Beauty Editor Eve Oxberry told the assembled audience of 400 beauty professionals: "Today is all about celebrating the very best of our industry. We seek to recognise those that set a shining example for beauty businesses; those who excel at services, customer relations and business acumen, and who set the gold standard to which we should all aspire. Each and every finalist should be proud to be here today, representing the very best of British salons and spas."

Tessa Stevens Health and Beauty Clinic scooped the title of South East Large Salon of the Year, sponsored by Heaven beating off stiff competition from others in the region. This category seeks to recognise the most successful large salon in the South East, catapulting the finalists into the upper echelons of the country's very best beauty talent. A win doesn't just mark out a salon as the best in the region, but also as a local authority and a destination business which brings clients through the door and puts the area on the map.

Accepting their award, area manager Anna Kyriacou commented: "It feels absolutely amazing to win South East Large Salon of the Year! We've worked so hard to grow the business this year and we invest a lot of time in training which we believe is so important. A huge thank you to our Managing Director Tessa, the whole salon team and of course – Professional Beauty!"
